

PORTLAND'S 100 BEST PLACES TO STUFF YOUR FACES

..... Written by JEN STEVENSON

THE FAIR CITY OF PORTLAND has a slew of affectionate nicknames—City of Roses, Stumptown, Rip City, Puddletown and Little Beirut to name a few, but I've dubbed it the City That Never Stops Eating.

Portland's 100 Best Places to Stuff Your Faces is a meticulously-researched guide to the city's very finest locally-owned culinary destinations. As you eat your way from one end of the book to the other, you'll explore over two dozen of Portland's most charismatic neighborhoods while, yes, stuffing your face (elegantly or otherwise), with the exceptional edibles this good food-obsessed city is famous for. Along the way, I hope you get a sense of the irrepressible spirit and creativity of Portland's intrepid chefs, bakers, chocolatiers, cheesemongers, grocers, farmers, restaurateurs, and cartrepreneurs. I hope you don't get indigestion and a muffin top, but if so, welcome to my world.

DETAILS

- 220 page paperback with over 80 custom illustrations
- Full-color fold-out maps of each sector of Portland
- Convenient travel size of 4.25 x 6.25 inches
- 100 reviews including must eats, phone, website, business hours and address information for each establishment
- Extra tips about markets, food tours, culinary events, and where to rest your weary belly
- A comprehensive checklist, the Eat Sheet, is available as a free download at bestplacestostuffyourfaces.com

PRICING

- Retail for $14.95
- Available online at bestplacestostuffyourfaces.com
- ISBN-978-0-9833958-2-9
- Wholesale, bulk, and corporate order rates available

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Jen lives in Portland with her imaginary mini bulldog and a lot of leftovers. Her hobbies include browsing grocery stores and farmers' markets, experimenting with recipes involving melted chocolate and lots of it, reading The Onion, taking pictures of pocket ninjas, trying new cavas, and thinking about lunch.

She has been a cook, food stylist, dessert caterer, and teacher, but these days, she writes about all the best things to eat and drink in Portland and beyond, for various media outlets and on her website, www.underthetablewithjen.com. She also runs www.wordcake.com.

..... Contact Jen Stevenson • 503-961-2526 • jen@underthetablewithjen.com

BESTPLACESTOSTUFFYOURFACES.COM

